SPRINT DELIVERABLES

- Project proposal v.4

THINGS THAT WENT WELL

We completed the proposal presentation. All members contributed and we able to ask the questions asked of us by the moderating team.

THINGS THAT COULD'VE GONE BETTER

We were unable to have a meeting with our client as we were expecting, meaning we don't have the go-ahead to deliver the product exclusively inside the Jira platform. After the completion of the proposal, our team slowed down on the work attached to the product, evidenced the decrease in work under the individuals work logs. Will need to ensure we continue to deliver on the 12 hours a week we have determined are required by each team member to ensure the product is delivered to the client.

LESSONS LEARNED

We discovered after our proposal that we still needed to do some more research and have further discussion with our client to figure out how the product will be delivered, either a standalone app or Jira platform add-on. Learnt about the depth of research required to articulate a realistic and actionable set of product requirements.
